FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1925.

When a business becomes a pleasure, it is a success.

A conservative is a radical who believes in doing things the way they have always been done.

A "living wage" depends on what one is doing.

PEAY-PERRY.

At 4:30 yesterday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Peay, of Lancaster, was the scene of a quiet, but beautiful wedding ceremony. The bride, Miss Louise Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Perry, of Lancaster, was escorted to the altar by her brother, Mr. H. B. Perry. The groom, Mr. N. A. Peay, was assisted by his best man, Mr. H. B. Perry. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. H. B. Perry. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, best man, maid of honor, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearers, and ushers. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding was a most successful and beautiful affair.

This demonstration Mr. Buster... was also... the resignation of the secretary, it was stated. W. S. Remits of Vannville, being... Commissioner C. E. Jones, of Batesburg, voted, "no," on the election of Mr. Thomas as chief of motor vehicles activities. The vote of the election of Mr. Sawyer as secretary was unanimous, it was stated.

Discussion of the changes in the highway department in executive session consumed little more than an hour. Commissioner Kenneth Baker, of Greenwood, presided in the absence of Chairman R. Goodwin Rhatt, of Charleston.

Mr. Young was a very capable and efficient demonstrator as he was the Furman swimming meet, in spring and stands high among the Red Cross swimmers.

Early English newspapers were most frequently named Mercury. The late Col. John B. Sawyer, of Columbia, was elected secretary of the commission to succeed Mr. Thomas. The action on the resignation of Mr. Thomas and the election of his successor was taken at an executive session of the commission.

Also at the request of Chief Commissioner McGowan, chief of the motor vehicle division of the highway department, at the same time, Mr. Sawyer, of Columbia, was elected secretary of the commission to succeed Mr. Thomas. caught by Hayes. A few moments later he died from loss of blood. The bullet having severed his jugular vein.

Meanwhile, he had been hastily carried out of the house to an automobile by Hayes, who was bent on securing medical attention for the wounded man. Before Snoddy breathed his last, according to Hayes, he said "I am sorry."

For five days sheriff deputies, rural police and armed citizens searched the woods by organized searching parties, armed and ready to take the alleged murderer dead or alive.

After his capture this afternoon Harrison said that he had tried several times to escape from his hiding place, but that every time he would venture near the edge of the woods, he would encounter armed men. He managed to get out Sunday, however, and was given a lift in an automobile to Harrison was recognized by a citizen at his station in Gaston to be about 3 o'clock this afternoon, reported to Police Chief O. P. Ardenhall by an employee of an interurban bus line, and arrested shortly afterwards a mile out of town, where he was found walking toward Lancaster.

Spokane county officers dispatched to Gaston identified the prisoner as Harrison, although at first he stoutly maintained his name was John Jones, and brought him to this city.

Last Thursday, Rural Policeman Snoddy, accompanied by J. C. Hayes, a rural policeman, entered a house at South Anchor in which Harrison was known to be. The officers climbed a ladder leading to a loft in which Harrison was believed to be hiding. Snoddy leading the way.

As the latter's head and shoulders cleared the loft's short ramp, Snoddy fell back and was

THE HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL

The annual number of the Chesterian reached Chester yesterday and is being delivered from the High School building today.

It is an unusually handsome edition, the cover of dark red with the Chester seal in white carrying out the High School colors.

The magazine itself is more pretentious than former efforts have been, and are worth far more than the price charged, which is only $1.00. Most towns of Chester's size have only one copy of their school annual, and as only 300 copies of the annual have been ordered there should be no difficulty in disposing of them early. Students can obtain their copies from the High School building, the Summer School opens next Monday, and some one will always be there to attend to their distribution.

Mrs. H. Groschell, who has been spending some time here with her daughter, Mrs. George Howell, Jr., is visiting another daughter, Mrs. Henry Boster, in Charlotte. Saved By Watchman. Rock Hill, June 9.—Sleeping occupants of the Dunbar boarding house were saved from imminent danger early today by E. H. Becker, night watchman of a local hall, who roused them from their slumbers after the house had become a mass of flames.

Reactor, from his post, three blocks away, saw the flames darting from the roof of the boarding house. Without stopping to give the alarm, he dashed to the house, battered his way through the front door, called the occupants of the first floor, and then made his way through the entire house, breaking in doors and sending the sleeping men, women and children scurrying to safety.

The boarding house, owned by J. B. Dozier and operated by Miss Jennie Dunlap, and two adjoining residences were consumed before the fire was controlled. Located on Pine Street, the building was less than one block distant from Winthrop college, and for a time it appeared likely that the fire would spread in the direction of that institution. People for more than a block distant mounted the tops of their houses and extinguished sparks as they fell.

The property loss was estimated at from $15,000 to $20,000. The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

James, Hodges and George Howell occupied the two residences destroyed.

Word has been circulated that my pond, on the Richburg road, is contaminated and unfit for bathing purposes.

I have had an experienced engineer make an examination of the premises and he advises me that it would be almost impossible for this pond to become contaminated, containing two and one-half million gallons of water, and being so situated that the sun shines on it all day, besides having a good over-flow.

I am having the water analyzed by a chemist and will continue to have this examination made from time to time during the entire summer.

If the pond was not fit for bathing purposes I certainly would not solicit the patronage of the public.

The balance of this week and all of next week ladies will be admitted free to the pond.
